1	I live here and when I do drive there's never any parking	12/10/2016 5:23 PM
2	Parked behind market	12/10/2016 3:53 PM
3	We parked several times. The longest was parked at a business that had it's own spaces.	12/2/2016 4:24 AM
4	Today was especially empty	11/27/2016 5:48 PM
5	Depends on what time/day of the week I visit.	10/24/2016 12:21 PM
6	i arrive before dawn on my visits, parking always available. Worse know w/ homeless in their trailers taking up so much space on Brighton.	10/24/2016 7:59 AM

37	15	10/10/2016 9:35 AM
38	It takes that long on weekend mornings after about 9	10/10/2016 9:24 AM
39	Totally depends on time and day. If there's any parking, it takes only a minute or two to find it. If not, I circle, like everyone else, asking people when they're leaving, etc. The longest I've probably waited was half hour. I have gone to Bolinas then left because no parking.	10/10/2016 9:23 AM
40	I come early in the day to get parking.	10/10/2016 9:20 AM

14	Today (11/27/2016 - the day I got the flyer on my car) was unusually easy to park. There are often days where it takes a lot of time or we have to park far away and walk with all of our gear. It can definitely get frustrating. We love your little town. Thanks for not discouraging visitors but rather trying to find a solution that works for residents and visitors alike.	11/30/2016 12:10 PM
15	There's a part of me that thinks Bolinas could benefit from a real, official (perhaps even pay?) parking lot. Another part of me thinks that it might detract from the character of the town. Not sure what directions you guys are headed, but you are wise to collect information and opinions from a variety of visitors and residents. Until next time, <3	11/29/2016 2:37 PM
16	We would be willing to pay to park in bolinas. This would help the town earn revenue while also encouraging visitors to carpool.	11/27/2016 5:48 PM

20	We are very respectful of the residents- surfers stay only a few hours. Maybe some parking should be limited by hours. Residents should have stickers allowing them to park longer. I am struck by the number of Rvs and cars that never seem to move. I think that not allowing people to camp on the streets would increase parking.	10/16/2016 7:19 PM

25	I think providing adequate parking within walking distance of the downtown and the beach reflects very favorably for the City of Bolinas	10/12/2016 8:19 PM
26	As a former resident of Stinson Beach with friends residing in Bolinas, I have not had challenges with parking by arriving at or near dawn when surfing in Bo. Not so with many visitors. Thanks and good luck.	10/12/2016 7:28 PM
27	Bolinas is a lovely relaxed town, and a nice, reliable place to surf. We go all year round, but avoid holidays and weekends because of parking.	10/11/2016 10:31 PM
28	I love BoBo - as do many other non-residents.	10/11/2016 6:11 PM
29	I try to get into town as early as possible. For me, that means I arrive by 9:30 and I'm gone before lunch. This way I can always find parking and I avoid the crowds. Although this would suck to see in Bolinas, time limits on parking ought to be imposed. In town, residents could have parking permits and visitors could have to pay for parking with maybe a 4-6 hour max per day. Obviously, this should apply everyday including Sundays and Holidays to be effective in managing parking by encouraging visitors to park farther away and either walk in or shuttle in. I know this will cost money to manage and will require meters or a pay to park print out machine (which by the way are very convenient and cheaper over time to maintain) and someone will need to be paid to go around enforcing restrictions, but hey it's a solution and should be a source of revenue as well. Just some thoughts. Thanks to whomever has spearheaded taking this problem on.	10/11/2016 11:56 AM
30	It would be appropriate to see residential parking zones around the routes to the beaches. I think metered parking downtown would also not be a shocker to visitors. And if the no parking zone at the end of Brighton were made into a white zone 15 min loading and unloading only people probably wouldn't park there. Thanks!	10/11/2016 9:15 AM
31	Offer a surfer commute bus - $10 one way that leaves from a parking lot in SF at 6,8 and 10am and returns at 2.5.7pm.	10/11/2016 7:46 AM
32	one big help would be to stop the overnight, multiple day parking by people living in their vans and RVs along Brighton Ave. They take many of the few parking spots close to the beach.	10/11/2016 5:45 AM
33	Note - we arrive very early (6 am) and midweek so parking is usually not an issue for us. There are some strange days when there actually is a crowd this early, but there always seems to be parking. Thus it is hard for me to comment on parking during busier times.	10/10/2016 9:24 PM
34	Parking is fine but since it such and small town, I feel on busy days sometimes it is hard to find parking.	10/10/2016 8:58 PM
35	I wish people didn't know about Bolinas	10/10/2016 8:38 PM
36	A bus and/or a no traffic zone is a great idea- it would also make the road up to the beach a lot safer for kids. I'd recommend no more than $2/hr for parking, half day for $6, full day for $10 and make the shuttle bus free. That would be a good outcome for residents and visitors.	10/10/2016 8:37 PM
37	There are three sleeper vehicles always parked, ? living there. That's at least 8 spots. Bolinas is a special town and too much accessibility would detract from it's charm. However it seems certain residences may need a couple secure spots.	10/10/2016 8:37 PM

39	The signs are fine. I know where to park and where not to park. A shuttle bus with surf racks (to accomodate longboard) would be great.	10/10/2016 6:50 PM
40	We almost always have 1 car with gear and have everyone else walk. It's hard to walk up and down the hill with boards. If there was an easy shuttle, that would be good. Key is what is easy. However, shuttle to/from park would not be particularly easy for us since we are coming from Overlook area. Thanks for doing this survey.	10/10/2016 6:13 PM
41	I try to surf on Friday's prior to 10:00 am	10/10/2016 5:43 PM

43	Last time I was there, someone dumped soda on my car. I get that visitors are probably irritating to locals.	10/10/2016 4:50 PM
44	I only come on week days so I have had no problems finding a place to park. Extra parking on holidays and weekends is needed but I don't know where you would put it. Shuttles would not work for surfers.	10/10/2016 4:45 PM

64	the problem is not unique to bolinas. The traffic in general in west Marin on weekends is a regional problem. 7 million people within in hours drive, the roads cannot handle the number of day travelers. PR Station, PRNS, Inverness, Muir beach, Stinson... All are affected by huge crowds on weekends and holidays. Working strategically with the region and county supervisors is probably a good idea.	10/10/2016 11:23 AM

84	I love this town !	10/10/2016 9:56 AM
85	Most of the time I visit Bolinas for the events at the Bolinas Museum and to visit friends on the Mesa - not a beach goer. Been doign this for over 10 years and consider Bolinas on a regular basis for over 10 years consider part of Marin. Also, understand the issue with parking in downtown so avoid going there on weekends when it's nice.	10/10/2016 9:51 AM

88	Parking is clearly labeled throughout Bolinas. I don't understand the need for thi survey. Anyone with half a brain, and some respect for the town and the people would find that it is easy to park legally. I can't think of a time that I have seen people parking illegally in Bolinas, or have heard of people complaining about tickets. I have heard of people complaining about residents vandalizing their vehicles, while parked legally for a half day or a full day. I am also becoming sick and tired of the sneers and passive aggressive comments from residents. "Here comes the Starbucks crowd" is not very welcoming to someone who visits maybe 10 times a year to surf. I shouldn't hear this from the locals, while carrying a surfboard down to the water. I remember when I first started visiting, I was renting boards from your shop, and the people working had the same attitude. They were incredibly rude, and were not helpful to "outsiders" with information on where to surf that day. I stopped renting from 2Mile, and bought a board at a different shop, because I grew tired of being met with people that didn't seem to want me there, because I was from out of town. I don't need your negative attitude and bad vibes, after driving an hour to an hour and a half on a Saturday morning to enjoy the ocean, a bran muffin from the cafe, and good conversation with respectful people. So, while this survey might help to address the parking "problem" that residents complain about, I think your problems are more deeply rooted than that. Your town has changed, and the people need to change with it or move on. As far as the parking "problem," I visit Bolinas regularly on the weekends, and I arrive between 7am and 4pm, depending on the day. Parking has never been a "problem." It takes less than 5 minutes to find parking. The real problem area that you should be focused on is the Palomarin Trailhead. I have witnessed angry residents blocking the street, because of too much traffic on the road in. The rude residents are the problem, not the visitors that spend money in your town. I have met some wonderful people that live in Bolinas. The overall attitude is so negative to all outsiders, that it has become unpleasant to visit on some weekends. They assume that everyone is new, will take their parking spaces (maybe you could walk into town?), and crowd the surf spots. Resident only parking areas, time restricted parking, or parking meters is going to make it miserable for "outsiders" to visit. But, from the overall vibe that I get from residents, that is what you want. I will not take a shuttle into town, becuae of a few whiney residents, and will discourage all others from doing so.	10/10/2016 9:45 AM
89	some wealthier residents were very rude and had homemade (and illegal) no parking signs positionned in front of their homes despite being a public roadway. Just ending this practice will go far in reducing parking troubles.	10/10/2016 9:42 AM
90	Limited parking makes for more pleasant, quieter beaches. Please keep parking limited for crowd control!	10/10/2016 9:40 AM
91	Create parking again along the road into town where the slow down for fox's sake sign was located. I also miss that sign. Maybe crack down on long term parkers, i.e. Multiple days, but not Bay Area day surfers. I would guess the day beach goers are the biggest number of parkers.	10/10/2016 9:39 AM

92	I answered this for my Saturday trip to Bolinas (10/8). I typically come early to surf and thus am able to beat the parking crowds. I wouldn't want to have to ride a shuttle with my longboard--that would be a deterrent. But perhaps a shuttle could at least run on holiday/high summer weekends. Bolinas is a very special place and I appreciate the attention to the issue and survey-based approach. Thanks!	10/10/2016 9:36 AM
93	more parking!!!!!!!!!!!!!!	10/10/2016 9:35 AM
94	Ban social media! Bolinas certainly has changed since I started visiting. Nothing good goes undisclosed in this age of social media. If Bolinas was kept secret in the past by removing the road sign today it would be by deleting hashtags and posts. The cat is out of the bag and the rich of the Bay Area know it. How many houses in Bolinas are second or third "homes"? Boom times and cheap gas = hard to park and hard to catch a wave. :(	10/10/2016 9:32 AM
95	We adjust our parking expectations based on which day we visit. Weekdays are obviously easy.	10/10/2016 9:32 AM
96	I think the town could install meters and collect revenue from visitors. It would deter people who stay in the same spot for weeks and most people I know would happily pay to park if it meant they could get a spot.	10/10/2016 9:28 AM
97	I'm a beginning (or rather slow-to-improve) 33-year old surfer that has lived in SF for a year. I have only been to Bolinas on weekdays in the winter when it's too big to go to Linda Mar in Pacifica (and I have some extra time to make the drive). I avoid both Bolinas and Pacifica on the weekends - bolinas b/c of parking - and pacifica, which has abundant parking because of the crowds. I usually go to Princeton Jetty in Half Moon Bay, which has a good sized dirt lot, isn't as crowded, and is south-facing. I do usually buy some food after surfing so I spend a little money and pay $5 for parking in Pacifica. I'm not sure how I'd feel about a bus. It would (presumably) save me the hassle of carrying my board too far, but given that it's already less convenient than the peninsula i'm not sure if I'd come if I had to wait 20 minutes on each end.	10/10/2016 9:27 AM
98	there is limited parking, and quite a bit of it is occupied by long term parkers (i.e. people living in their r.v.s and campers.) I don't have a problem with that, but it does impact parking. I would hate to see them go, and as it would change the laid back vibe of the town.	10/10/2016 9:26 AM

101	This is interesting. I always figured lack of parking was part of Bolinas' charm. A way to keep the beach and water from getting TOO crowded. I also figured the people of Bolinas didn't necessarily want to encourage or make it easier for people to visit.	10/10/2016 9:23 AM
102	A lot of parking in town is currently taken up by people living in their trailers. I don't remember seeing this many campers in town in the 30 years I have been visiting Bolinas.	10/10/2016 9:20 AM
103	Parking seems to be a self-limiting factor for Bolinas. If there are not enough spaces, people can go to Stinson.	10/10/2016 9:20 AM
104	I heart Bolinas, a magical, wonderful wrinkle in the universe. xx	10/10/2016 9:19 AM
105	I live bolinas and think we (visitors) need to be respectful of residents and other visitors. I hope the town maintains its "no jerks allowed" unwritten rule. Friendly, peaceful and laid back.	10/10/2016 9:18 AM
106	A shuttle would be great, especially if it also had a building close by with "surf lockers" so we wouldn't have to bring our boards on the roads as much.	10/10/2016 9:17 AM
107	It's pertinent to note that I usually come to Bolinas on slower days when possible (I try to avoid weekends)	10/10/2016 9:17 AM
108	Charge for parking. The community needs it!! Local residents can get a sticker or something for free access.	10/10/2016 9:14 AM
109	A shuttle would be great. I stayed the weekend a few weeks ago so had parking. But the whole town was overrun with people looking for parking and it was unpleasant. Super congested.	10/10/2016 9:14 AM
110	I knew going in that it might be challenging to park. But I dropped the kids off at the ramp with the boards and beach gear, looked for parking but had to park all the way back by the Mercantile shop. No big deal, beautiful day for a walk. Its a small town and that's what you get. Signs are clearly posted. It just has a certain capacity and I'm fine with that.	10/10/2016 9:14 AM
111	If I know I'm coming to Bolinas to go to the beach or hike I need to leave my house in Petaluma by 8am to get there so I can get parking otherwise I don't come. I don't ever come on the weekends unless it's early otherwise it's too crowded and no parking. During the week in the morning is the best time, when everyone is at work/school.	10/10/2016 9:12 AM
112	NO BOLINAS SIGN FOREVER!	10/10/2016 9:08 AM
113	The parking is very spikey. Either it's really easy or it's impossible.	10/10/2016 9:07 AM

There seems to be a growing number of RVs permanently parked on the street. Is there another place where they can park and still have a comfortable place to stay? Overall, I love Bolinas and I do see that the visitaiton has grown. Thank you for your patience with us visitors and for bringing up this subject so we can work together to ensure the community does not feel overtaken and so visitors can enjoy the beauty of the location and the community.	9/26/2016 10:41 AM
